What's New

Photographs of the Maricopa People by Daniel Boone Linderman
As a missionary, teacher, and photographer, Daniel Boone Linderman documented the Pima and Maricopa during the early 20th century. His photographs center on Native American ethnography, particularly showcasing mission schools, group portraits of families and their homes, and farming.

The years 1859-1922 represent a time when Arizona grew up. A broad documentation of this valuable history can be found in the newspapers of the day. In accordance with their mission to ensure that Arizona's history is documented and preserved, and in joint effort with the National Endowment for the Humanities and Library of Congress, The Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records is proud to contribute to the National Digital Newspaper Program by digitizing select Arizona newspaper titles from this vital time in history in preparation for global online access. Civil War in the American South

In recognition of the sesquicentennial of the start of the American Civil War, Civil War in the American South provides a central portal to access digital collections from the Civil War Era (1850-1865) held by members of the Association of Southeastern Research Libraries \(ASERL\).

From the collection...

ASERL members hold deep and extensive collections documenting the history and culture of the American South, developed over hundreds of years to support scholarly research and teaching. Many of the special or unique manuscripts, photographs, books, newspapers, broadsides, and other materials have been digitized to provide broader access to these documents for scholars and students around the world. Civil War in the American South is a collaborative initiative to provide a single, shared point of access to the Civil War digital collections held at many individual libraries.

This site currently links to more than 10,000 items from 30 libraries. The shared collection continues to grow, providing ready access to a world-class collection of primary source materials from the American Civil War era.

2012-2013 Financially Supporting dLOC Members

Thank you to the following institutions who have already joined to support dLOC with membership for this year. dLOC relies on the institutional support of its partners and the financial support of institutional and personal members to continue to sustain and grow this important resource.

The screenshot shows the Louisiana Digital Library (LDL) website. At the top left is the LDL logo. To its right is a navigation bar with links: home, browse, search all collections, and contact us. A search box is located in the top right corner. The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column contains a 'Browse Collections By' menu with options: Topic, Institution, Media Format, Geographic Focus, Time Period, and Collection Name. Below this is an 'About Resources for the LDL' section. The middle column features a 'Welcome to the LOUISiana Digital Library.' section, followed by a paragraph describing the library's mission and a list of subjects. The right column displays two featured items: a photograph of three young boys from 1911 and a historical document from 1988-1972. At the bottom right is a logo for 'LOUIS THE LOUISIANA LIBRARY NETWORK'.
