University of Calgary Press

About

The University of Calgary Press publishes works that embody the spirit of curiosity inherent in scholarly inquiry. We invest in ideas that inform how we think and shape our world, and connect local realities to global experiences. On questions of history and identity, people and nature, policy and community; from the transpolar to the southern cone; from places in the mind to places all over the world, our books engage a central theme—what matters?

The University of Calgary Press is proud to be a part of the University of Calgary’s Libraries and Cultural Resources.

Open Access - Connecting Scholars to the World

As a scholarly publisher, we feel a responsibility to ensure that the research of our authors is accessible to its widest possible audience. We therefore embrace Open Access publishing, making our scholarly books available as free PDFs on our website. You can download these PDFs from individual book pages on our website, or browse our OA titles all in one place.

With our authors’ permission, these Open Access books are published under a Creative Commons license. Notice of the parameters of the Creative Commons licensing agreement have been placed at the beginning of each book and chapter PDF. Our OA titles are also published in traditional book format and are available for purchase through bookstores and on-line retailers.

Acknowledgements

The University of Calgary Press gratefully acknowledges the support of the Government of Alberta through the Alberta Media Fund, the Government of Canada, the Canada Council for the Arts, Livres Canada Books, and the Canadian Federation for the Humanities and Social Sciences through the Awards to Scholarly Publications Program.
With a focus on publishing in social justice and community engagement, the University of Cincinnati Press cultivates and disseminates peer reviewed accessible, transdisciplinary scholarly and regional works of the highest quality for the enhancement of the global community.

The University of Cincinnati Press is a pioneer within university press publishing, creating a unique business model fully integrated within the Libraries’ infrastructure. We are excited to maximize economies of scale within the university and focus 100% of our resources on publishing functions for our authors and readers.

MISSION

The University of Cincinnati Press is committed to publishing rigorous, peer reviewed, leading scholarship accessibly to stimulate dialog between the academy, public intellectuals and lay practitioners. The Press endeavors to erasure disciplinary boundaries in order to cast fresh light on common problems in our global community. Building on the university’s long-standing tradition of social responsibility to the citizens of Cincinnati, state of Ohio, and the world, the press publishes books on topics which expose and resolve disparities at every level of society and have local, national and global impact. Founded in 2017, the press uses a new, integrated operations and financial model which is fully integrated with the university library. Through the press’s publishing services division, it strives to collaborate and support university and faculty publishing efforts.

VISION

The press explores new modes of scholarly publishing which shrink the distance between author and reader and expand the traditional published book dynamically using data visualization and robust media rich content to cast a new interactive lens on the written word in a stable environment. The Press seeks to establish a highly sustainable mission based university press business model through unique utilization of library and university staff to reduce cost. By incorporating University Press publishing with library publishing services and scholarly communications, The Press forms a publishing continuum which is strategically agile, innovatively responsive and financially diverse.

PURPOSE

The Press publishes transdisciplinary scholarly monographs and theory-to-practice books about social justice issues. The Press publishes short and long form scholarly books and journals which move beyond discipline-specific approaches to create new perspectives across humanities, social sciences and STEM in traditional and open access. Our focus includes community and collective engagement advocacy movement efforts, and the underserved and underrepresented individuals, dealing with disparities in accessibility, equity and privilege throughout the worldwide. Our library publishing program and scholarly communication center services all academic departments and subjects.

What’s different about the University of Cincinnati Press?

Theory to practice. Connects scholars to practitioners working in press areas of publication.

Press-Library Staff Integration. Creates a new, more sustainable, complimentary business model and helps to reduce press overhead.

New Modes Of Scholarship. Collaborative partnerships with UC units and centers such as the Digital Scholarship Center and UC Scholar provide opportunities for our authors to push the traditional boundaries of publishing and consider new, stable methods of sharing and expanding primary research with readers and scholars.

Transdisciplinary Publications. Encourages intersectionality across disciplines to create new perspectives on common issues.

Explore Elements
Curate your publications using the Elements publication management system.

Duke Libraries can help you share your peer-reviewed article, thesis, dissertation, data, or other digital objects via an open access repository. We provide a platform for publishing and managing an online journal, and can advise on copyright issues, scholarly publishing, data management, building and managing digital research projects, and more.

Share your work with the world
Did you know that Duke has an open access policy? We can help you make sure your work is available to anyone who might want to read it, via your Scholars@Duke profile.

Increase your reach and impact
We can help you find the right venue to publish your work, how to reach a broad and diverse audience, and show you how you can track who is referencing your work and what they are saying.

Elements

What is Elements?

Elements is an online service provided by Duke Libraries to help Duke faculty and researchers document and manage their publications history for their own needs and to make publications information consistently available for use in professional profiles.

Publications information from elements is used in your Scholars@Duke profile, and any other web sites that draw data from it, such as school and department web sites.

You can log in to Elements directly at elements.duke.edu, or via the Publications section when editing your Scholars@Duke profile.

How is Elements connected to Scholars@Duke?

Elements is used to manage the Selected Publications section in your Scholars@Duke profile. To make changes to this section of your Scholars@Duke profile, you must access the Elements system. Information on how to use Elements and how to get help with Elements is available from the Elements Help web site.

How is Elements connected to the DukeSpace repository?

Elements facilitates uploading and management of the full text of publications for archiving in the Duke Libraries repository, and where possible, for making them available freely to colleagues, students, and the general public. In March 2010 the Academic Council adopted an open access policy (see Appendix P of the Faculty Handbook, and more information on the Duke Libraries Open Access web site), and Elements is being implemented in part to make participation with this effort as convenient as possible for faculty. To learn how you can make your own publications openly available via your Scholars@Duke page, see this page about uploading your full text via Elements.

LibraryPress@UF, an Imprint of University of Florida Press

The University Press of Florida is the number one academic publisher in the State of Florida and is expanding its scholarly offerings and its global reach with the inception of the University of Florida Press. The UF Libraries are the largest information network in the State of Florida. The University of Florida Press and Libraries both have deep expertise in digital publishing (e.g., securing rights, executing new and innovative digital publishing activities).

With similarly aligned missions and roles that complement the other’s activities, the University of Florida Press and UF George A. Smathers Libraries frequently collaborate to foster the creation, promotion, access, and preservation of research and creative works, in support of teaching, research, and the public sphere. Current collaborations include disseminating Open Access books through a sustainable system and process, a new Mellon grant to enrich and enhance library and press collaboration, new courses and student training opportunities (e.g., with the Digital Humanities Graduate Certificate and collaboration with the Department of History for the graduate track in academic publishing), and the LibraryPress@UF.

In 2016, the Libraries and the University of Florida Press began a new collaboration on the LibraryPress@UF, an imprint of the University of Florida Press. The LibraryPress@UF features content that aligns with the mission and strategic directions of the Libraries, including:

- Limited editions (e.g., artists’ books)
- Campus specific works (e.g., books on UF history)
- Books developed from the library collections (e.g., works that develop and build upon the Libraries’ digital and physical holdings)
Launch Process: Initial Launch Period (2016); Beta Launch (2017); Operational (2018)

With the LibraryPress@UF in the initial stages, standard contracts and processes are in development as of March 2016, with the expectation of these being in place by Summer 2016. Next steps for the promotion and development of the LibraryPress@UF include engagement with internal stakeholders within the Libraries through presentations at library-wide events. During the initial launch period (through the end of 2016), potential LibraryPress@UF publications will be reviewed in consultation with the Dean of University Libraries to ensure optimal goal alignment and determine the beta launch process, expected to begin in 2017.

For ongoing development, following normal practices, works intended for publication within the LibraryPress@UF will draw upon and utilize Library Liaison Teams. This follows from the standard process for Library Liaison teams for Data and Digital Scholarship Projects and Collections, with the Digital Scholarship Librarian as co-lead with the Library Liaison for all LibraryPress@UF projects as the liaison to the University of Florida Press, to ensure consistency for all new projects and alignment with strategic directions for digital scholarship and transformative collaboration.

Expected measurable outcomes for each of the first two years (2016 and 2017) include supporting 2-4 publications per year, each:

- Focused on areas unique to the LibraryPress@UF (e.g., limited editions, artists’ books, campus specific, on UF history, developing and building upon the Libraries’ digital and physical holdings)
- Selected to support the goals of the title, the Libraries’ goals for LibraryPress@UF including enhancement and extension of the library collections, and the Press goals for LibraryPress@UF
- Selected to support the shared goal for increasing and enriching collaboration
- Developed with the author/creator, LibraryPress@UF Team (Digital Scholarship Librarian, Library Dean, and Director of the Press), and Liaison Librarian
- Planned in connection to existing opportunities for events, outreach, and promotion

Digital Publishing Services

Digital Publishing Services provides support to the KU community for the design, management and distribution of online publications, including journals, conference proceedings, monographs, and other scholarly content. We help scholars explore new and emerging publishing models in our changing scholarly communication environment, and help monitor and address campus concerns and questions about electronic publishing.

These services are intended to enable online publishing for campus publications, and help make their content available in a manner that promotes increased visibility and access, and ensures long-term stewardship of the materials.

Digital Publishing Systems & Services

We support a variety of software platforms to publish content in different formats, and can assist with moving traditional journal and monograph content to an online environment, as well as with publishing "born-digital" scholarship designed specifically for online publication. We also offer tools to help manage and streamline the production and editorial work involved in producing scholarly journals.

- KU ScholarWorks is a digital repository for scholarly work created by the faculty and staff of the University of Kansas. KU ScholarWorks makes important research available to a wider audience and helps assure its long-term preservation.

- Journals@KU supports the publication of scholarly journals online, and assists journal editors with the management, editorial work, and production work involved in producing scholarly journals. Our journal services are built on the Open Journal Systems (OJS) journal management software designed to facilitate online peer-reviewed publishing.

- XTF is a system for building and providing access to full-text, XML-encoded resources, such as TEI-encoded monographs and EAD finding aids.
ThinkIR is an open access digital archive of scholarly work created by the University of Louisville community. ThinkIR preserves and disseminates works of enduring merit for future generations of scholars making them available to a worldwide audience of scholars and researchers.

ThinkIR is organized by colleges/schools and departments of the University of Louisville.

Collection Policy

ThinkIR welcomes scholarly work created by faculty, staff, and students of the University of Louisville (UofL).

Student Scholarship

Graduate theses, dissertations, and capstones and undergraduate honors theses are deposited by students in accordance with their respective program requirements. Please see Guidelines for the Preparation and Processing of Theses and Dissertations (School of Interdisciplinary & Graduate Studies) and Procedures and Standards for Master of Engineering Theses (J.B. Speed School of Engineering) for additional information. If your University of Louisville thesis or dissertation does not currently appear within ThinkIR but you would like to give us permission to include it, please contact us.

Faculty and Staff Scholarship

ThinkIR also showcases worldwide the research and creative work of faculty and staff. Examples of these types of scholarly effort include:

- journal articles
- conference papers/presentations/proceedings
- technical reports/working papers

For the types of materials noted above, faculty may deposit works as defined by their unit's Personnel Document. Staff may deposit these types of material if created in the course of their work assignment.

If something you're interested in sharing through ThinkIR is not listed above, please contact thinkir@louisville.edu so we can discuss the potential for your work to be preserved and shared through ThinkIR. We hope to preserve faculty research data in the future.

Open Access Journals

ThinkIR can serve as a platform for electronic journals sponsored by UofL, entities in connection to their university roles. The journals must be peer-reviewed or in accordance with the customary scholarly practice in the field they cover, and be open access. See ThinkIR Journal Proposal/Innovation Form for factors to consider before establishing a journal with ThinkIR.

Journal editors would receive free access to the software as well as training and support provided by the ThinkIR Coordinator; but be responsible for identifying and communicating with editors, peer-reviewers, and authors; configuring the software; and posting all content. The Libraries would register the International Standard Serial Number (ISSN) with the Library of Congress, submit the titles to the Global LOCKSS Network (GLN) for long-term preservation, and, if desired by the department, register Digital Object Identifiers (DOIs) for each article. See our Memorandum of Understanding for additional details.
Penn State University Press Strategic Plan 2014–2017

Executive Summary

Founded in 1956, The Pennsylvania State University Press publishes annually fifty to sixty books and in 2014 thirty-three journals in print and/or digital form in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. The majority of books published are peer-reviewed scholarly monographs for research libraries. One or two titles appear annually in our Keystone Books® imprint, regional works for the citizens of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region. The Press operates on a modified cash accounting system and generates approximately $2.5 million in revenue to underwrite its operations. It receives a direct budget allocation of approximately 11 percent of its operating expenses to cover a portion of salary costs. It operates with a positive result. As a unit responsible for generating roughly 90 percent of its operating revenue, the Press must be creative, entrepreneurial, focused, and far-sighted. It must anticipate the future in a rapidly evolving industry and respond with vision, commitment, and resolve.

1. Mission

The Pennsylvania State University Press, reporting to the Dean of University Libraries and Scholarly Communications, publishes original scholarly, peer-reviewed research (books, journals, and other forms of research) in the arts, humanities, and social sciences for worldwide scholarly communities. The Press disseminates this research to international libraries, institutions, and scholars at affordable prices and at the highest quality. The Press also serves the citizens of Pennsylvania by publishing on topics related to the history, culture, literature, society, politics, and future of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region.
ULS Office of Scholarly Communication and Publishing (OSCP)

An old tradition and a new technology have converged to make possible an unprecedented public good. The old tradition is the willingness of scientists and scholars to publish the fruits of their research in scholarly journals without payment, for the sake of inquiry and knowledge. The new technology is the internet. The public good they make possible is the world-wide electronic distribution of the peer-reviewed journal literature and completely free and unrestricted access to it by all scientists, scholars, teachers, students, and other curious minds. Removing access barriers to this literature will accelerate research, enrich education, share the wealth of the rich with the poor and the poor with the rich, make this literature as useful as it can be, and lay the foundation for writing humanity in a common intellectual conversation and quest for knowledge.

The University Library System, University of Pittsburgh is a member of the Open Access Scholarly Publishers Association (OASPA).
Purdue University Press was founded in 1960 and has a distinguished history. It is administratively a unit of Purdue University Libraries and its Director reports to the Dean of Libraries. There are three full-time staff and two part-time staff, as well as student assistants. Dedicated to the dissemination of scholarly and professional information, the Press provides quality resources in several key subject areas including business, technology, health, veterinary sciences, and other selected disciplines in the humanities and sciences. As well as publishing around 30 books a year, and five subscription-based journals, the Press is committed to broadening access to scholarly information using digital technology. As part of this initiative, the Press distributes a number of Open Access electronic-only journals. An editorial board of nine Purdue faculty members is responsible for the imprint of the Press and meets twice a semester to consider manuscripts and proposals, and guide the editorial program. A management advisory board advises the Director on strategy, and meets twice a year. Purdue University Press is a member of the Association of American University Presses.

Scholarly Publishing and Libraries
Exciting technologies and new forms of informal publication are creating new interest in university publishing; a report by the Ithaka research group urges administrators, librarians, and university presses to work together towards building a shared electronic publishing infrastructure. The 2012 Library Publishing Services: Strategies for Success Final Report documents how publishing has become a core function of academic libraries in North America. Scholars welcome the benefits of electronic access to information and recognize the potential for preserving the outcomes of their research online. When institutional cover publication costs up front, one barrier to the free flow of information is eliminated.

Universities seeking new publication models are exploring open access publishing to lower the costs of acquiring information, and to increase the likelihood that research results can be discovered. The University of Tennessee is a founding member of the Library Publishing Coalition, a community-led organization that supports an evolving, distributed range of library publishing practices and that furthers the interests of libraries involved in publishing activities on their campuses.
Scholarly Communication Department

Library Publishing Services for Faculty, Students and Staff

Scholarly Communication is a dynamic landscape, and we have returned to our roots. Our focus is on publishing services supporting the creation and dissemination of scholarship.

The Virginia Tech Libraries provide services to expand and diversify publishing to meet the needs of the university community. We empower you to be creative and develop new modes of scholarship.

Scholarly Communication will help you publish and disseminate a range of publications not limited to peer reviewed journals, undergraduate research, grey literature, Open Educational Resources, or monographs. Please contact us to explore your ideas.

Our services enable you to create new open access journals or transition existing journals from print to electronic and to produce and disseminate articles and conference proceedings widely.

Don't hesitate to ask us about related topics such as altmetrics, data curation, VTechWorks, and our digital preservation strategy.

To fulfill our commitment to long-term access, Scholarly Communication is committed to a distributed digital preservation strategy as a partner in the MetaArchive Cooperative.

Parallel Press, is a non-profit publisher supported by the University of Wisconsin-Madison Libraries. The press publishes chapbooks and books that feature the work of regional poets and authors. In keeping with the Wisconsin Idea, Parallel Press is part of an ongoing commitment by the Libraries to make scholarly works available worldwide.

Parallel Press is also dedicated to supporting the scholarly communication efforts of the Libraries. Communicating the results of scholarly research is essential to building knowledge and helping academics, scholars, and researchers share and publish their research findings so they are available to the wider academic community. To that end, all of the Parallel Press publications are made freely available online.

Publishing Support

York University Libraries provide support and infrastructure for scholarly production and dissemination. At the production end, we offer research data management consultations with our Digital Assets Librarian and a free online journal hosting service called York Digital Journals. Limited financial aid in support of open access publishing is offered via the Open Access Author Fund, and YorkSpace supports an alternate route to open access which involves placing a copy of your published work (subject to publisher policy) in an open access repository.

York University Libraries Open Access Author Fund

York University Libraries have directed a small portion of their collections budget in support of an open access author fund to cover Author Processing Charges for York researchers who wish to publish their work in open access journals. Please apply as early as possible as once the annual allocation has been expended, no further requests can be considered until the following fiscal year.

Scholars Portal Dataverse Network

The Scholars Portal Dataverse network is a repository for research data collected by individuals and organizations associated with Ontario universities. The Dataverse platform makes it easy for researchers to deposit data, create appropriate metadata, and version documents as you work. Access to data and supporting documentation can be controlled down to the file level, and researchers can choose to make content available publicly, only to select individuals, or to keep it completely locked. All data is hosted on Canadian servers, in a secure environment that conforms to industry best practices for maintaining data integrity and longevity.

Institutional Repository (YorkSpace)

YorkSpace is York University’s Institutional Repository. It functions as an open access library of digital objects. Each submission must be accompanied by a digital object that can be made available to the York and global scholarly community permanently without access restrictions. YorkSpace hosts a variety of scholarly outputs including faculty papers, award winning student papers, Electronic Theses and Dissertations (ETDs), and conference proceedings.

York Digital Journals

York University Libraries provide an electronic journal hosting service for York-affiliated journals. This service is called York Digital Journals (YDJ). Over 35 scholarly journals are currently hosted by the platform. Some of the YDJ hosted faculty-led journals feature the peer-reviewed work of graduate and undergraduate students.

York University Libraries provide an electronic journal hosting service for York-affiliated journals. This service is called York Digital Journals (YDJs).

York University uses Open Journal Systems (OJS), an open source software platform developed by the Public Knowledge Project which is now in use by over 7,500 journals worldwide. OJS differs from other web platforms as it is specially designed to manage articles through author submission, peer review, editing and publication. This online submission and tracking workflow simplifies the administrative aspects of the journal editorial process, allowing designated users to view the status of their article at any given time.

The YDJs team is happy to work with York community members to create new journals or migrate existing journals to an online environment. The librarians can provide hosting space, training documentation and troubleshooting help with the OJS software, as well as advice on dissemination and exposure.

Please be advised that an embargo is in place with respect to YDJs taking on new journals as of January 2017 due to preparations for software migration for our 46 journals. The embargo will be re-evaluated in July 2017.

Staffing
POSITION VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

POSITION: LibraryPress@UF Coordinator - Library Coordinator 2

REPORTS TO: Digital Scholarship Librarian

SALARY: $48,500 annually. Actual salary will reflect selected professional’s experience and credentials

JOB NO: 502955

DEADLINE DATE: August 15, 2017, applications will be reviewed as received

JOB SUMMARY

In 2016, the Libraries and the University of Florida Press began a new collaboration on the LibraryPress@UF, an imprint of the University of Florida Press. The LibraryPress@UF Coordinator (Coordinator) is a new position that operates within the George A. Smathers Libraries to ensure coordinated and consistent activities for the LibraryPress@UF. The Coordinator will collaboratively build and start-up the LibraryPress@UF as a new program, creating, developing, and directing the strategic planning process.

The Coordinator supports production and development needs for all LibraryPress@UF imprint works (e.g., new publications, republications, expanded editions, digital works, etc.) for design, layout, creation, coordination on metadata (e.g., library records, CIP, and publisher information), developing and maintaining design files and processes, and overall production needs. The LibraryPress@UF focuses on works that are born digital, with print-on-demand options integrated with sole source production, and with digital files hosted as Open Access through the Libraries. The Coordinator provides support to academic faculty collaborating with the Libraries on publishing efforts, and provides support for scholars regarding enhanced monographs in collaboration with the UF Press. Attends relevant conferences (e.g., Association of American University Presses, Library Publishing Forum) for sharing of UF activities and development of best practices.

The Coordinator plays a critical role for enhancing and expanding the existing relationship and activities by serving as a core contact with the UF Press, including for new opportunities in regards to online journals; enhanced monographs; shared events; and collaborative grants including the Open Book Program grant to re-enliven out of print books.

THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

The University of Florida (UF) is a major, public, comprehensive, land-grant, research university. The state’s oldest and most comprehensive university, UF is among the nation's most academically diverse public universities. UF was ranked 9th among public universities in Forbes’ “America’s Best Employers 2015. UF has a long history of established programs in international education, research and service. It is one of only 17 public, land-grant universities that belong to the Association of American Universities. UF traces its beginnings to a small seminary in 1853 and is now one of the largest universities in the nation, with more than 50,000 students. For more information, please consult the UF homepage at http://www.ufl.edu.

GEORGE A. SMATHERS LIBRARIES

The libraries of the University of Florida form the largest information resource system in the state of Florida. The UF Libraries consist of seven libraries; six are in the system known as the George A. Smathers Libraries at the University of Florida. The libraries hold over 5,800,000 print volumes, 8,100,000 microfilms, 650,000 e-books, 121,016 full-text electronic journals, 889 electronic databases, 1,300,000 documents and 766,000 maps and images. The libraries have built a number of nationally significant research collections, including the Latin American, Judaica, Florida History, Children’s Literature, and Maps and Imagery Collections. The Smathers Libraries are a member of the Association of Research Libraries (ARL), the Center for Research Libraries (CRL), the Association of Southeastern Research Libraries (ASERL), and LYRASIS. The library staff consists of more than 400 FTE librarians, technical/clerical staff and student assistants. The organizational chart is available at http://www.uflib.ufl.edu/orgchart.pdf.

COMMUNITY

Gainesville, Florida and the surrounding community are home to approximately 257,000 people and both the University of Florida and Santa Fe College. Situated just over an hour from the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean, the city is surrounded by over 40 nature parks, including many spring-fed lakes and rivers.

Your User Home page will appear allowing you to choose your Author role and submit using the easy 5-step process.

As a scholarly publisher, the University of Calgary Press feels a responsibility to ensure that the research of our authors is accessible to its widest possible audience. We therefore embrace open-access publishing and strive to make as many of our publications as possible available as open-access files that are free to anyone who wishes to download them. With our authors’ permission, titles are published under a Creative Commons licence and will be available for free download in PDF format from individual book pages on our website. Notice of the parameters of the Creative Commons licensing agreement has been placed at the beginning of each book and chapter PDF. Our open-access titles are also published as e-books and in traditional book format, available for purchase through bookstores and on-line retailers.

The University of Calgary Press is proud to be a part of the University of Calgary’s Libraries and Cultural Resources.

SUBMISSION PREPARATION CHECKLIST

As part of the submission process, authors are required to check off their submission’s compliance with all of the following items, and submissions may be returned to authors that do not adhere to these guidelines.

1. The submission has not been previously published, nor is it before another publisher for consideration (or an explanation has been provided in Comments to the Editor).

2. The submission includes a PROSPECTUS and complete manuscript (or an explanation has been provided in Comments to the Editor). The manuscript documents must be compressed together into a single .zip or .pdf file. This is accomplished by highlighting the submission files, right-clicking, and choosing Send To > Compressed (zipped) Folder, or, on a Mac, control-clicking and choosing Compress.

3. The submission contains approximately 10,000 words or less.

4. The submission file is a Microsoft Word (.doc) document. The text is double-spaced, uses a 12-point standard font, and is paginated.

5. The text adheres to the stylistic and bibliographic requirements outlined in the STYLE & DOCUMENTATION GUIDELINES, which are found under Policies on the About tab at the top of the web page.

6. If applicable, a list of illustrations, figures, and tables is provided, "labels" indicating placement are included within the text (e.g., "ILLUSTRATION 12"), and samples are supplied. These must be compressed together into a single .zip or .pdf file with your other documents (see item 2 above for compression instructions).

7. I am aware that my manuscript, even if approved for publication by the University of Calgary Press editorial board, cannot be published without sufficient funding to cover editorial, design, and printing and binding costs. Acquiring this funding through donations and grants can take several months.

8. I am aware that, if my manuscript is accepted for publication, I must provide a subject index at my own cost as well as pay for illustrations (if applicable) and permissions for all third-party material (e.g., images or previously published copyrighted material). Please see our Permission Guidelines for more details.

9. I am aware that the University of Calgary Press hopes to publish an open access version of all its books in order to increase dissemination and impact. I will be asked to agree to that and to create as many of my illustrations as possible which will also be permitted to be published in such a manner - under a Creative Commons license. LibraryPress@UF, Guidelines for Volume Editors

Editorial control: As volume editor, it is your responsibility to exert strong editorial control. Editorial control includes not only organizing the authors and guiding them through the publication process, but also the ability to make difficult decisions, if necessary, to see the project through to publication. An editor must be willing to set the tone for the content and format of the book to ensure that all contributors adhere to the main themes of the work, and be willing to make the authors revise their essays if they do not fit the vision of the volume. The volume editor needs to control for overlaps, duplication, wildly disparate lengths from one chapter to another, all while keeping the intended audience in mind. Editorial control might also involve removing a contributor’s essay if it is a weak contribution or if it does not peer review well. In other words, it is not enough to simply gather the essays together, but you must be able to mold them into a viable book project.

Volume editor introduction: In a substantial introduction, the volume editor needs to articulate the core organizing principles of the volume, including the order of the essays and the significance of chapters in the context of the entire volume. The contributors should develop their essays along the lines described in this introduction, so it is generally a good idea to share a draft of the introduction with the contributors.

Releases/permissions: Once the volume is approved for publication, the LibraryPress@UF must have a signed release form from each contributor, granting the right to reproduce contributor essays. The LibraryPress@UF will provide the release form to use. The release forms should be submitted to the Editor at one time by the volume editor; the contributors should not submit these to the press piecemeal.

In addition, if any permissions are required, either for illustrations in the book or to reproduce previously published essays or other portions of the text, the volume editor is responsible for making sure any permissions fees are paid to the rights holders, and gathering up all documentation for the LibraryPress@UF. The Manuscript Preparation Guidelines and Art Submission Guidelines provide information that will help you determine whether or not permissions are required.

Text submission: The volume editor must inform the contributors of the stylistic requirements for the book, and edit the essays before submission so that all chapters conform to the same style. You must ensure that all the contributors’ chapters are formatted with complete consistency. We will provide you with our Checklist for Preparing a Manuscript for Review, which offers broad formatting guidelines for submitting the text for peer review; later on, once the manuscript is approved for publication, you should follow our more detailed Manuscript Preparation Guidelines for submitting the text. In an edited volume, it is important that all contributors use the same methods for citation. If the text includes translated materials, one style must be implemented for presenting those quotations.

Art submission: If your edited volume includes photos, tables, graphs, maps, drawings, etc., you are responsible for making sure all the contributors are aware of the art submission requirements. explained in our Art Submission Guidelines), and that all art in the manuscript conforms to these guidelines. You must be willing and able to tell a contributor that we will not use poor quality art, and that such art will be removed from the chapter if suitable replacements cannot be found.

Schedules: The volume editor is responsible for keeping the contributors on schedule at all stages of submission. This is especially important once the project has been approved for publication and a delivery date for the final manuscript for editing and production has been established. All contributors must know that this date is a firm date, and they risk having their essays removed from the volume if they cannot meet it.

Once the manuscript has been transmitted, the LibraryPress@UF will provide you with a schedule for editing and production. You should share this schedule with your contributors, so they will know when they should set aside time to work on their chapters. Doing this will help prevent delays during the editing and production process.

Mail/email list: At the very beginning of the process, we strongly recommend that you create an email list that includes every contributor. This will make it far easier for you to communicate with everyone involved with the volume at key stages during the process.
MANUSCRIPT INFORMATION SHEET

Please complete this form fully and return it at your earliest convenience. Please try to confine your answers to the fields provided, but you may take additional space as needed.

This form will act as a cover document for your work, and the information will also be used for various purposes, including planning for budgeting and marketing. Thank you for your careful attention.

Please provide a brief (150-200 word), plain language summary of your proposed work. Identify your purpose in writing/creating it, noting the special contribution made by your work, noting format concerns, and noting how the work takes advantage of and embraces full, Open Access (along with the potential for print on demand, POD). Define the major concerns and problems you address; state your solutions or findings and their implications. Tell us the compelling, unique features that would encourage readers.

Please list five internet search terms that can be associated with your work. Please avoid the obvious such as major disciplines (Southern history, literature) and go a bit deeper to terms YOU would use to search for this work.

Whom do you see as the main audiences?

What other works attempt to do what your proposed work will do?

Do you know of any potential funding sources for your book? Are there any publication grants available for authors/creators that publish in your field or on your work’s topic? Also, depending on your line of work and institutional affiliation(s), are there subsidy funds for which you can apply?
Why are you interested in the LibraryPress@UF for this specific project? Please explain particular genre needs if for digital scholarship, additional added value for Open Access if applicable, and need/value for Print on Demand (POD).

Resources for Editors of Scholarly Journals: Getting Started http://guides.lib.ku.edu/journal_editors

This guide is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License. Terms of use for the individual resources linked from this guide may vary.

Starting Points

This guide is intended to provide editors of scholarly journals with the tools and resources that they need to successfully manage a scholarly journal. The content is grouped by subject matter, but readers may find that related information can be found in more than one section of this guide.

If you have questions about journal publishing at the University of Kansas Libraries, please contact Marianne Reed at mreed@ku.edu or Lyn Wolz at lwolz@ku.edu.
ThinkIR Journal Proposal/Intake Form

University Libraries, via ThinkIR (ir.library.louisville.edu), publishes content that adheres to the following policies:

- Open Access
- Scholarly in nature
- Sponsored by a UofL department/unit
- Subject to a signed Memorandum of Understanding
- UofL holds the copyright for journals

UofL faculty and researchers:

- create the journals;
- identify the editorial, funding, and administrative framework for publishing them;
- receive University Libraries advice, expertise, and guidance in using University Libraries technology in order to make their journals available globally.

Journal Intake Questions

1. Why do you want to create an open access journal?

2. Is this a New or Existing journal? [Include ISSN# if existing] Choose one

3. What are the plans/goals for this journal?

4. What is the journal’s proposed title?
   Note: We strongly suggest NOT using UofL at the beginning of any title!

5. Do you currently hold or plan to seek trademark protection for this title?
   ○ Yes  ○ No

6. What other journals exist for this subject area?

7. Please describe your intended audience.

8. What are your plans for recruiting content? Please refer to Journal Essentials and Journal Makeover for best practices.
9. Who is the journal editor? _________________________________

10. Do you have an Editorial Board and if so, what are their responsibilities?
    _________________________________

11. How do you plan to support administrative needs/processes related to the publishing of this journal?
    _________________________________

12. What is your anticipated launch date for this journal? _________________________________

13. What will be your publication schedule and frequency? _________________________________
    We strongly suggest setting a predictable schedule and adhering to that.

14. What will be your process for submitting articles to the journal?
    _________________________________

15. What will the review process be for this journal?
    _________________________________

16. What is your primary source of funding for this journal (if not UofL)? Does this include any grant funding?

Reviewer Features

Reviewers are provided electronically with a description of the review steps, the review schedule, a comment function, and basic metadata when the reviewer accepts an e-mail request for manuscript review.

Selection Criteria

We are seeking partners who:

- Ensure quality through a rigorous peer-review process
- Support Open Access to scholarly research
- Are supported by an internationally recognized editorial board
- Possess the staff resources needed to ensure timely publication
- Solicit new original scholarly research through an open call for papers
- Practice selectivity regarding published content

All of our peer-reviewed journals are also published in partnership with the University of Pittsburgh Press.

Is OJS a good fit for my journal?

You may want to read the OJS in an Hour guide and try the OJS demo and the OJS test drive. The OJS in an Hour guide includes both the URL and the login information for the OJS test drive. You may also want to review some external evaluations, such as Johns Hopkins University’s Survey and Evaluation of Open-Source Electronic Publishing Systems or The Ohio State University’s Digital Publishing Systems Comparison Report: A review of DPubS and OJS.

Why not run OJS on my own?

The ULS has experience, knowledge of publishing best practices, a proven track record as a publisher of 30 e-journals, and is a major development partner with the Public Knowledge Project (PKP), the organization that produces and maintains OJS.

Contact us at e-journals@mail.pitt.edu to explore the possibilities for partnering with us to publish your scholarly journal.

Journal Proposal Form
University Library System, University of Pittsburgh

>Please insert date of application>

1) Title of journal

2) Frequency and schedule of publication:
   A common publication model is to compile articles into issues prepared in advance and published at one time on an annual, semiannual, or quarterly basis. Journals also have the option of a rolling publication (publish-as-you-go model) where the journal opens a volume and adds articles one at a time as they become ready for publication.

3) Scope, focus, and description of content

4) Target audience

5) Types of content included (essays, research papers, book reviews, etc.)

6) Scholarly review.
   For each type of content listed in 5) above, describe the intended review process.
   • Address whether the content is peer reviewed, and if so, what process is followed to ensure impartiality (single blind, double blind review, etc.).
   • Number of reviewers per article;
   • Guidelines for reviewers including rubric for evaluation if available;
   • Standards, criteria, and process for selecting reviewers;
   • Process for acceptance decisions

7) Proposed editorial personnel
   a) Editor(s) in chief
      Identify the individual(s) responsible for academic content and executive management of the publication, including name, title, organizational affiliation, and past experience in scholarly publishing. Attach a CV for each editor or coeditor in chief.

   b) Other editors, if any
      Identify the individual(s) involved in day-to-day management of the publication, including conducting reviews, assignment of copyediting, proofreading, layout, communication with authors, etc. For each editor, provide name, title, organizational affiliation, and past experience in scholarly publishing.
c) Editorial Board (or Advisory Board)
   Describe the role of the Editorial Board or any organization providing oversight or governance for the journal. For each Board member, list name, title, and organizational affiliation.

d) Continuity
   Are there any limits to the term of key editorial staff? How are new editors selected? Is there any established protocol for transition of editorship?

8) Source of funding.
   Does a funding source exist for this journal? If so, describe the source of the funds and state how they will be used. Include support from sponsoring institutions or organizations, revenues from subscriptions sales or advertising, and any other sources of support. What specific activities does the funding support?

9) Article Processing Charges
   Do you intend to collect revenues from article processing charges? If so, provide details. What specific activities will author fees support?

10) Open Access and Copyright Policies
    Describe the intended Open Access and copyright policies for the journal. Note that under the ULS standard copyright policy, the author retains copyright for each article under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license.

11) Target Implementation Dates
    a. Target date for first call for papers with ULS as publisher (Web site go-live date).
       Note that the minimum start-up time for a new journal is three months from the signing of a service agreement.

    b. Target date for publication of first issue with ULS as publisher.
       Allow sufficient time after the initial call for papers for review, copyediting, layout editing and publishing of content for the first issue.
FOR STUDENT-RUN JOURNALS ONLY:

1) Faculty advisor name, title, and contact information

2) Continuity Plan
   Describe the continuity plan for editorship of the journal as student editorial staff complete their studies and leave the University. Who will be responsible for ensuring continuity? What is the anticipated term of service for editors? How will new editorial team members be recruited, trained, and mentored on a continuing basis?

FOR PROPOSED NEW JOURNAL TITLES ONLY:

1) Identify at least three existing journal titles of similar content

2) Rationale
   Why is a new journal needed in this area? What characteristics of the proposed new journal distinguish it from existing titles?

FOR TITLES ALREADY IN PUBLICATION ONLY:

1) Current publisher

2) ISSN

3) Date of first publication

4) Title history.
   List any superseded titles/ISSNs and their dates of publication; list any past publishers if different from above.

5) Current subscription cost model, if any.
   For each subscription category, list the annual subscription cost and the number of subscribers.

6) Abstracting and indexing services
   List any abstracting or indexing services that index the content of this title.

7) Other contractual agreements
   List and describe any existing contractual agreements with other publishers or indexing/abstracting/aggregation services.
8) Ownership of back issues

   Identify who owns copyright for content included in all back issues of this title.

9) Author agreement

   Do you require authors to sign an author copyright agreement?

   If yes, please attach a sample of all current and past author agreements.

10) Formats currently offered:

   __ Print
   __ Electronic

11) Anticipated policy changes

   Are you planning any changes in the formats offered or in your current policies regarding copyright ownership, access, or subscription models?

12) Why are you seeking to change publisher?

ADMINISTRATIVE INFORMATION:

1) Please list names and e-mail address(es) for correspondence about this proposal.

2) Please name the sponsoring organization or legal entity with whom the service agreement will be executed.

3) If the sponsoring organization is incorporated, name the type of corporation and the place of incorporation.

4) What is the official mailing address of the organization or journal for official documents and invoicing?

5) Please provide the name and title of signatory on service agreement.

Send completed form to e-journals@mail.pitt.edu.

Purdue University Press is dedicated to disseminating scholarly and professional information in several signature areas of interest. We welcome submissions of book proposals in these core subjects:

- Agriculture
- Education, especially in STEM subjects
- Health and Human Sciences
- History, especially Central European and Indiana History
- Jewish Studies
- Romance Studies (we separate submissions websites)
- Technology and Engineering

We are happy to receive proposals with sample chapters or, preferably, full manuscripts. Because we receive a large number of submissions, we may not be able to respond to all. As publishing involves a matching process between manuscript and publisher, we ask that you not submit your proposal to more than one publisher at a time. If you want to submit a proposal to a particular series, please mention this in your proposal. Details about our series can be found on the browse by series page.

What to Include in a Proposal

Proposals should be single-spaced, Word, rtf, or PDF documents and should be sent to Susan Wagener, Acquisitions Assistant, by e-mail, pawagener@purdue.edu or mail:

Purdue University Libraries – PUP
544 West State Street
West Lafayette, IN 47907-2358

A proposal should give members of the Purdue University Press Editorial Board—most of whom will not be specialists in your area—a clear and detailed idea of what your book will be about. Please include a cover letter, your curriculum vitae, and a proposal as outlined below. Please be concise in your proposal and keep it to four single-spaced pages (this limit does not include sample chapters or other supplemental materials).

1. Title, Subtitle.
2. Author or Editor Name(s). In the order you expect them to appear in the book.
3. Biographical Information, for main author(s) or editor(s).
4. Brief description. In a few paragraphs (no more than 300 words), describe the work. Include what you consider to be the outstanding, distinctive, or unique features of the work. Consider the following questions: What problem do you set out to solve? What confounding issues do you clarify? What previously unknown or neglected story do you tell? Why does it matter? To whom? We sometimes refer to this as the “Amazon blurb.”
5. Competition. Describe existing books in this field and spell out how your book will be similar to, as well as different from, these works. Discuss specifically their strengths and weaknesses and how your coverage may vary from theirs. Please discuss each competing book in a separate paragraph and provide the publisher and date of publication. This information will provide us with a frame of reference for evaluating your material.
6. Length. What do you estimate to be the length of the book? Note that double-spaced pages normally reduce by about one-third when typeset, e.g., 300 handwritten pages will make about 200 printed pages. If the book is complete, divide the number of words by 150 to get a page count. Will the book include photographs, line drawings, graphs, glossaries, a bibliography, an appendix, an index, and so on? Please give an estimate of the number and kind of images, charts, and so forth.
7. Status of the Work. What portion of the material is now complete? When do you expect to have a complete manuscript to submit for review? Please give us a date.
8. Audience. For what type of reader is your book intended, that is, what is the primary audience for the book? Are these secondary audiences for the book? If a textbook, for what educational level is it intended? The more specific you can be, the better.
9. Reviewers. Please provide the names and contact details for three or four people you feel would be competent to review your material and whose opinions you would find valuable. We will try to use some of these along with our own selection. We do not reveal your name to the reviewers or the names of reviewers to you without your permission.
10. Sample Chapters. Select one or two chapters of the manuscript that are an integral part of the book, if you have them ready. They should be those you consider the best-written ones, and do not have to be in sequence. The material need not be in final form, although it should be carefully prepared and represent your best work. In your preparation, emphasis should be on readability. You can also send the full manuscript if you have it.

Response Time

We will contact you as soon as we have had a chance to thoroughly examine your manuscript proposal. Thank you for your interest in Purdue University Press. We look forward to reading your materials.

Purdue University Press

Contrated Authors

Producing the best possible publication is a partnership, and our team at Purdue University Press is pleased to be working with you. As described in the Book Production Timeline and Checklist, below, your manuscript will be going through a number of processes prior to its publication. The time needed to complete your book will depend upon meeting deadlines and scheduling around other projects, but the process usually takes about six months to one year from final submission to publication.

Below are some documents that will assist you during the publication process. In general, we aim not to be unduly prescriptive and are happy to consider your particular needs as we copyedit and typeset your book.

Once your book is accepted for publication, be sure to read the Book Production Timeline and Checklist to learn about what you will need to do and when. It is particularly important that all legal matters such as art, photo, or cover permissions are taken care of before your final manuscript is submitted and production begins.

Book Production Timeline and Checklist

Submission process

1. Author signs contract and completes author questionnaire.

The Press's administrative assistant will send you a contract, which must be signed and mailed back, and a comprehensive author questionnaire, which can be returned electronically. If you are offered a contract on the basis of a proposal alone, there will be an extra review phase here.

2. Author submits final manuscript and accompanying images and permissions.

By your manuscript due date, please turn in the final, polished version of your book, formatted in the appropriate style, whether MLA (liberal arts and humanities), APA (social sciences), or Chicago. If you use Chicago, we prefer either the Notes-(Full) Bibliography System (used for literature, history, and the arts) or the Author-Date System (used for social sciences) with a full bibliography. Manuscripts with notes and no bibliography are not encouraged. For style information online, see MLA Style, APA Style, or Chicago Style. For general formatting and other guidelines, see Purdue University Press Style Guide.

All images, charts, graphs, and other figures must be turned in at the same time as the manuscript. Visual materials must be print quality, that is, at least 300 dpi for photos and 800 dpi for line drawings and charts, and at the desired scale of reproduction (4" x 6" is a good "document size" to aim for). For more information, see Purdue University Press Figure Guidelines.

Art reproductions, photos, and previously published texts often require permission to be reproduced. All of these permissions must be provided to the Press when the final manuscript is turned in. See the Permissions FAQ produced by the Association of American University Presses for further information.
Launch Process
3. Book is launched.

The book is assigned an International Standard Book Number (ISBN); its format, size, and price is determined; its publication date is assigned; and the front cover and marketing copy is prepared. Note that all bibliographical details should be finalized at this point, as it will be costly to make changes once the book information is disseminated widely to selling partners and others. The administrative assistant will be in touch to discuss any ideas you have for the book cover.

4. Front cover and marketing text approved by author.

5. Production editor schedules manuscript for copyediting and production.

Production Process

A few weeks before copyediting begins, your editor will check that all images, graphs, etc., are print quality and will let you know if any are unusable. The editor will also make sure all permissions documentation is complete and look through the manuscript to see if there are any problems that need to be addressed.

7. Production editor sends copyedited Word files to author.

The copyedited Word files will be sent as separate chapters, and the author will use the tracking function to record any further corrections to the manuscript. In the case of a multi-author work, the files will be sent to the volume or series editor, to be distributed to contributors and later returned to the production editor.

8. Author makes corrections to copyedited Word file and returns it to copy editor.

9. Production editor typesets manuscript in Adobe InDesign and sends author proofs in PDF form.

At this point only minimal changes to the proofs can be made.

10. Author approves first proofs and returns them to production editor.

11. Production editor enters final changes to proofs.

Generally, only one proof is sent out for final corrections; however, if the layout is complicated or many changes have been made, a second proof may be sent out for proofreading.

12. Entire cover (front and back) is finalized and sent to author.

Newfound Press | Submissions, Criteria for Publication

https://newfoundpress.utk.edu/submissions/

Submissions
Newfound Press publishes peer-reviewed works that may have a limited and/or specialized audience. We publish book-length manuscripts, works of digital scholarship, and scholarly journals or other serial works. Of particular interest are works with interdisciplinary approaches and those relevant to Tennessee and the Southeast. We do not consider unsolicited manuscripts.

Criteria for Publication
Newfound Press is committed to disseminating peer-reviewed works that may have a limited and/or specialized audience. Works published by Newfound Press must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- Demonstrates scholarly rigor
- Offers an innovative presentation, particularly involving digital media
- Contains content and approach of potential interest across disciplines
- Reflects regional relevance
- Marks wide dissemination and preservation, but unlikely to be published by a traditional press because of narrow focus or innovative format

House Style
Newfound Press follows the Chicago Manual of Style for text.

Manuscript Preparation
Manuscript Preparation Guidelines for Authors

Review Process
When manuscripts are received, we identify peer reviewers, soliciting scholars in appropriate disciplines to review submissions. Reviewers address questions on the Newfound Press manuscript review form or the Newfound Press manuscript review form for multimedia. Once Newfound Press decides to publish a work, the author works closely with editorial and production staff.

Copyright
Copyright owners grant Newfound Press non-exclusive rights to disseminate their work in perpetuity. This arrangement means that others may also publish the work and receive permission from the copyright holder to publish or disseminate in other forms. Newfound Press requires authors and editors to include copyright information with a statement of ownership, an invitation to reproduce content under certain conditions, and a warning about possible infringements. We encourage authors to license their work using a Creative Commons license. See more at Copyright Information from UT Libraries.

BYU Family Historian
BYU Family Historian was a periodical written annually, from 2002 to 2007 by The Center for Family History and Genealogy. Assorted authors including Howard C. Gwynn, David H. Pratt, and Mark E. Christ wrote articles for the publication. The Center for Family History and Genealogy was established at Brigham Young University in order to utilize BYU resources to simplify the process of finding ancestors and the discovery of the world in which they lived. The Center also supported student training for life-long temple and family history service. Partners of the Center include: BYU Religious Education, BYU Department of History, BYU School of Family Life, BYU Computer Science, State Archives of Niedersachsen, Germany, and the State Archives of Bavaria, Germany.

BYU Studies Quarterly
Brigham Young University's premier Mormon academic journal since 1958. BYU Studies is dedicated to publishing scholarly religious literature in the form of books, journals, and dissertations that is qualified, significant, and inspiring. We want to share these publications to help promote faith, continued learning, and further interest in our LDS history with those in the world who have a positive interest in this work.
The mission of this publication is to be faithful and scholarly throughout, harmonizing wherever possible the intellectual and the spiritual on subjects of interest to Latter-day Saints and to scholars studying the Latter day Saint experience.
The archive on this site contains all but the most recent three years of BYU Studies Quarterly content.

Comparative Civilizations Review
The Comparative Civilizations Review publishes analytical studies and interpretive essays primarily concerned with (1) the comparison of whole civilizations, (2) the development of theories and methods especially useful in comparative civilization studies, (3) accounts of intercultural contexts, and (4) significant issues in the humanities or social sciences studied from a comparative civilizations perspective.

Criteria: A Journal of Literary Criticism
Criterion: A Journal of Literary Criticism seeks original, well-researched, and intellectually rigorous essays written from diverse critical perspectives and about texts from any time period or literary tradition. Submissions are peer-reviewed by a selection board at BYU, and final decisions are made by the journal’s two Editors-in-Chief in consultation with a faculty advisor. We are currently working on our Winter 2017 issue, scheduled for publication in April of 2017. We will begin accepting submissions for our Winter 2018 issue in early September 2017. Submissions to both the general section and the Forum should be between 3000 and 6000 words (not including the bibliography). All submissions should be double-saced, written in English, and formatted according to the most recent MLA guidelines. Submissions should be uploaded as MS Word files through our website and online submission system. For its Winter 2017 issue, Criterion has reserved space for multiple essays that respond to Professor Scott Peeples’s Forum prompt “What Can Poe Do for You?”

Desert Language and Linguistic Society Symposium

Great Basin Naturalist
Great Basin Naturalist was published from 1899 to 1999 and was succeeded by the Western North American Naturalist. With a few exceptions, the journal published experimental and descriptive research pertaining to the biological natural history of western North America, focusing primarily on the Intermountain States. See the About this Journal for a complete coverage of the journal.

Great Basin Naturalist Memoirs
The Great Basin Naturalist Memoirs succeeded the Brigham Young University Science Bulletin, Biologica Series, and was published irregularly from 1918 to 1992. (Numbers 1 to 13). This memoirs series included articles, synopses, or other works considered too lengthy for publication in the parent journal (Great Basin Naturalist). See the About this Journal for a complete coverage of the journal.
Intuition: The BYU Undergraduate Journal in Psychology

Intuition is an undergraduate academic journal of psychology. It is managed, edited, and designed by an editorial board composed of undergraduate psychology students, a faculty advisor, and other faculty members who assist in the reviewing process. Intuition publishes two issues a year, one in both the fall and winter semesters. The journal seeks to publish psychological research, studies, essays, reviews, and other content done by psychology undergraduates.

Issues in Religion and Psychotherapy

Welcome to Issues in Religion and Psychotherapy. Issues in Religion and Psychotherapy is an online peer-reviewed journal addressing the interface between revealed religion and psychology, specifically, issues of spirituality and the influence of doctrine of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS) in psychotherapy, including the study of counseling in a spiritual context. It is devoted to influencing the field of counseling and psychotherapy through the study of related scholarship in religion, LDS doctrine, spirituality, and ethics.

Journal of Book of Mormon Studies

A publication of the Neal A. Maxwell Institute for Religious Scholarship, the Journal of Book of Mormon Studies is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to promoting understanding of the history, meaning, and significance of the scriptures and other sacred texts revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith. These include the Book of Mormon, the Doctrine and Covenants, the Pearl of Great Price, and the Joseph Smith Translation of the Bible. This journal was titled Journal of the Book of Mormon and Other Restoration Scripture at one time.

Religious Educator: Perspectives on the Restored Gospel

The Religious Educator serves the needs and interests of those who study and teach the restored gospel of Jesus Christ. The distinct focus of the journal are its pedagogical studies related to teaching religion; studies on scripture, doctrine, and history of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons); and Latter-day Saint pioneers across the globe. The journal also publishes interviews that touch upon difficult topics, timely topics, and key figures in Religious Education. The beliefs of the respective authors do not necessarily reflect the views of the Religious Studies Center, Brigham Young University, or The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.
See the Aims and Scope for a complete coverage of the journal.

Africa: Missing Voices

ISSN: 1703-1826 (print) ISSN 1925-5675 (online)

This series illuminates issues and topics concerning Africa that have been ignored or are missing from current global discourse. These titles address concerns that have long been overlooked in political, social, and historical discussions about this continent. A primary focus is local governance issues. This series is intended to be published in open access format in collaboration with African university presses and libraries.

Series Editor: Donald Ray Professor, Political Science Chair, Traditional Authority Applied Research Network (TAARN) University of Calgary
Open Journals

The Duke University Libraries partners with members of the Duke community to publish peer-reviewed scholarly journals.

Publish a Journal
If you are a member of the Duke community and are interested in creating a peer-reviewed online scholarly journal or in changing an existing print scholarly journal into one that is available online, the Duke University Libraries may be able to help you set up and host an online journal.

What We Provide
We can help members of the Duke community establish an online journal using the Open Journal Systems (OJS) software. We host the software and show you how to use it. We can provide guidance and advice as you format your journal and develop its sections.

Why Open Journal Systems (OJS)?
Open Journal Systems (OJS) was developed by the Public Knowledge Project to manage the overhead of creating and sustaining a journal and to make open access publishing simpler. Today, more than 7,500 journals use OJS as their publishing platform. OJS will guide you as you set up a journal. Its templates will help you design your journal's appearance and its internal structure. Online publication removes the barrier of printing costs. OJS's real strength is the way it helps you manage the publishing process — from receiving submissions and editing them to designing layouts and publishing works. OJS is online and will help you track and manage articles as they move through the review process, keeping the publication process on schedule.

For more information contact Paolo Mangiafico at library-ojs@duke.edu.

Digital Publishing Systems

KU Libraries support a variety of software platforms to publish content in different formats, and can assist with moving traditional journal and monograph content to an online environment, as well as with publishing "born-digital" scholarship designed specifically for online publication. We also offer tools to help manage and streamline the production and editorial work involved in producing scholarly journals.

- KU ScholarWorks is a digital repository for scholarly works created by the faculty and staff of the University of Kansas. KU ScholarWorks makes important research available to a wider audience and helps assure its long-term preservation.
- Journals@KU supports the publication of scholarly journals online, and assists journal editors with the management, editorial work, and production work involved in producing scholarly journals. Our journal services are built on the Open Journal Systems (OJS) journal management software designed to facilitate open peer-reviewed publishing.
- XTF is a system for building and providing access to full-text, WY-encoded resources, such as TDI-encoded monographs and EAD finding aids.

Journals Hosted by KU Libraries

KU Libraries provides journal editors with the technical infrastructure to publish their journal on either of two platforms: KU ScholarWorks, KU’s institutional repository, which makes journals visible to a wide audience and assures their long-term preservation and Open Journal Systems (OJS), which makes journals visible and assures their preservation, but also supports the entire editorial management workflow, including article submission, multiple rounds of peer-review, and indexing.

An Overview

The Gender & Women's Studies Librarian's Office publishes three periodicals on joint subscription, plus an online database videography on women, bibliographies, and occasional books.

The three periodicals are:

Feminist Collections: A Quarterly of Women's Studies Resources features book reviews, news of new periodicals and special issues, articles on out-of-the-way materials: audiovisuals, electronic resources, microforms, and reports. Sample articles are online.

Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents (4yr, online only; subscribers will receive notification of each issue) reproduces tables of contents of over 150 women's studies journals and magazines, and includes publishing/subscription information on each periodical.

New Books on Women, Gender & Feminism (2yr), is a subject arranged bibliography with additional subject and author indexes to new books in English from academic, trade, small press, and feminist sources around the world. (formerly New Books on Women & Feminism)

Only joint subscriptions to all three are available.
