About BYU's ScholarsArchive

Mission Statement

The mission of ScholarsArchive is to support intensive learning, stimulating teaching, and excellent research by providing free, easy access to original scholarly and creative works produced by faculty, staff, and students at Brigham Young University. In addition, ScholarsArchive hosts online journals and conferences published or managed by BYU departments. ScholarsArchive upholds the University's and Harold B. Lee Library's mission statements by simplifying the pursuit of lifelong learning and spiritual growth.

About

The University of Calgary Press

The University of Calgary Press publishes works that embody the spirit of curiosity inherent in scholarly inquiry. We invest in ideas that inform how we think and shape our world, and connect local realities to global experiences. On questions of history and identity, people and nature, policy and community; from the transpolar to the southern cone; from places in the mind to places all over the world, our books engage a central theme—what matters?

The University of Calgary Press is proud to be a part of the University of Calgary’s Libraries and Cultural Resources.

Open Access - Connecting Scholars to the World

As a scholarly publisher, we feel a responsibility to ensure that the research of our authors is accessible to its widest possible audience. We therefore embrace Open Access publishing, making our scholarly books available as free PDFs on our website. You can download these PDFs from individual book pages on our website, or browse our OA titles all in one place.

With our authors' permission, these Open Access books are published under a Creative Commons license. Notice of the parameters of the Creative Commons licensing agreement have been placed at the beginning of each book and chapter PDF. Our OA titles are also published in traditional book format and are available for purchase through bookstores and on-line retailers.

Acknowledgements

The University of Calgary Press gratefully acknowledges the support of the Government of Alberta through the Alberta Media Fund, the Government of Canada, the Canada Council for the Arts, Livres Canada Books, and the Canadian Federation for the Humanities and Social Sciences through the Awards to Scholarly Publications Program.
With a focus on publishing in social justice and community engagement, the University of Cincinnati Press cultivates and disseminates peer reviewed accessible, transdisciplinary scholarly and regional works of the highest quality for the enhancement of the global community.

The University of Cincinnati Press is a pioneer within university press publishing, creating a unique business model fully integrated within the Libraries' infrastructure. We are excited to maximize economies of scale within the university and focus 100% of our resources on publishing functions for our authors and readers.

MISSION

The University of Cincinnati Press is committed to publishing rigorous, peer reviewed, leading scholarship accessibly to stimulate dialog between the academy, public intellectuals and lay practitioners. The Press endeavors to erase disciplinary boundaries in order to cast fresh light on common problems in our global community. Building on the university's long-standing tradition of social responsibility to the citizens of Cincinnati, state of Ohio, and the world, the press publishes books on topics which expose and resolve disparities at every level of society and have local, national and global impact. Founded in 2017, the press uses a new, integrated operations and financial model which is fully integrated with the university library. Through the press's publishing services division, it strives to collaborate and support university and faculty publishing efforts.

VISION

The press explores new modes of scholarly publishing which shrink the distance between author and reader and expand the traditional published book dynamically using data visualization and robust media rich content to cast a new interactive lens on the written word in a stable environment. The Press seeks to establish a highly sustainable mission based university press business model through unique utilization of library and university staff to reduce cost. By incorporating University Press publishing with library publishing services and scholarly communications, The Press forms a publishing continuum which is strategically agile, innovatively responsive and financially diverse.

PURPOSE

The Press publishes transdisciplinary scholarly monographs and theory-to-practice books about social justice issues. The Press publishes short and long form scholarly books and journals which move beyond discipline-specific approaches to create new perspectives across humanities, social sciences and STEM in traditional and open access. Our focus includes community and collective engagement advocacy movement efforts, and the underserved and underrepresented individuals, dealing with disparities in accessibility, equity and privilege throughout the worldwide. Our library publishing program and scholarly communication center services all academic departments and subjects.

What's different about the University of Cincinnati Press?

Theory to practice. Connects scholars to practitioners working in press areas of publication.

Press-Library Staff Integration. Creates a new, more sustainable, complimentary business model and helps to reduce press overhead.

New Modes Of Scholarship. Collaborative partnerships with UC units and centers such as the Digital Scholarship Center and UC Scholar provide opportunities for our authors to push the traditional boundaries of publishing and consider new, stable methods of sharing and expanding primary research with readers and scholars.

Transdisciplinary Publications. Encourages intersectionality across disciplines to create new perspectives on common issues.

Elements

What is Elements?

Elements is an online service provided by Duke Libraries to help Duke faculty and researchers document and manage their publications history for their own needs and to make publications information consistently available for use in professional profiles.

Publications information from Elements is used in your Scholars@Duke profile, and any other web sites that draw data from it, such as school and department web sites.

You can log in to Elements directly at elements.duke.edu, or via the Publications section when editing your Scholars@Duke profile.

How is Elements connected to Scholars@Duke?

Elements is used to manage the Selected Publications section in your Scholars@Duke profile. To make changes to this section of your Scholars@Duke profile, you must access the Elements system. Information on how to use Elements and how to get help with Elements is available from the Elements Help web site.

How is Elements connected to the DukeSpace repository?

Elements facilitates uploading and management of the full text of publications for archiving in the Duke Libraries repository, and where possible, for making them available freely to colleagues, students, and the general public. In March 2010 the Academic Council adopted an open access policy (see Appendix P of the Faculty Handbook, and more information on the Duke Libraries Open Access web site), and Elements is being implemented in part to make participation with this effort as convenient as possible for faculty. To learn how you can make your own publications openly available via your Scholars@Duke page, see this page about uploading your full text via Elements.

LibraryPress@UF, an Imprint of University of Florida Press

The University Press of Florida is the number one academic publisher in the State of Florida and is expanding its scholarly offerings and its global reach with the inception of the University of Florida Press. The UF Libraries are the largest information network in the State of Florida. The University of Florida Press and Libraries both have deep expertise in digital publishing (e.g., securing rights, executing new and innovative digital publishing activities).

With similarly aligned missions and roles that complement the other’s activities, the University of Florida Press and UF George A. Smathers Libraries frequently collaborate to foster the creation, promotion, access, and preservation of research and creative works, in support of teaching, research, and the public sphere. Current collaborations include disseminating Open Access books through a sustainable system and process, a new Mellon grant to enrich and enhance library and press collaboration, new courses and student training opportunities (e.g., with the Digital Humanities Graduate Certificate and collaboration with the Department of History for the graduate track in academic publishing), and the LibraryPress@UF.

In 2016, the Libraries and the University of Florida Press began a new collaboration on the LibraryPress@UF, an imprint of the University of Florida Press. The LibraryPress@UF features content that aligns with the mission and strategic directions of the Libraries, including:

- Limited editions (e.g., artists’ books)
- Campus specific works (e.g., books on UF history)
- Books developed from the library collections (e.g., works that develop and build upon the Libraries’ digital and physical holdings)
Launch Process: Initial Launch Period (2016); Beta Launch (2017); Operational (2018)

With the LibraryPress@UF in the initial stages, standard contracts and processes are in development as of March 2016, with the expectation of these being in place by Summer 2016. Next steps for the promotion and development of the LibraryPress@UF include engagement with internal stakeholders within the Libraries through presentations at library-wide events. During the initial launch period (through the end of 2016), potential LibraryPress@UF publications will be reviewed in consultation with the Dean of University Libraries to ensure optimal goal alignment and determine the beta launch process, expected to begin in 2017.

For ongoing development, in following normal practices, works intended for publication within the LibraryPress@UF will draw upon and utilize Library Liaison Teams. This follows from the standard process for Library Liaison teams for Data and Digital Scholarship Projects and Collections, with the Digital Scholarship Librarian as co-lead with the Library Liaison for all LibraryPress@UF projects as the liaison to the University of Florida Press, to ensure consistency for all new projects and alignment with strategic directions for digital scholarship and transformative collaboration.

Expected measurable outcomes for each of the first two years (2016 and 2017) include supporting 2-4 publications per year, each:

- Focused on areas unique to the LibraryPress@UF (e.g., limited editions, artists’ books, campus specific, on UF history, developing and building upon the Libraries’ digital and physical holdings)
- Selected to support the goals of the title, the Libraries’ goals for LibraryPress@UF including enhancement and extension of the library collections, and the Press goals for LibraryPress@UF
- Selected to support the shared goal for increasing and enriching collaboration
- Developed with the author/creator, LibraryPress@UF Team (Digital Scholarship Librarian, Library Dean, and Director of the Press), and Liaison Librarian
- Planned in connection to existing opportunities for events, outreach, and promotion

Requirements

All books with the LibraryPress@UF incur certain costs.

Digital Publishing Services

Digital Publishing Services provides support to the KU community for the design, management and distribution of online publications, including journals, conference proceedings, monographs, and other scholarly content. We help scholars explore new and emerging publishing models in our changing scholarly communication environment, and help monitor and address campus concerns and questions about electronic publishing.

These services are intended to enable online publishing for campus publications, and help make their content available in a manner that promotes increased visibility and access, and ensures long-term stewardship of the materials.

Digital Publishing Systems & Services

We support a variety of software platforms to publish content in different formats, and can assist with moving traditional journal and monograph content to an online environment, as well as with publishing "born-digital" scholarship designed specifically for online publication. We also offer tools to help manage and streamline the production and editorial work involved in producing scholarly journals.

- KU ScholarWorks is a digital repository for scholarly work created by the faculty and staff of the University of Kansas. KU ScholarWorks makes important research available to a wider audience and helps assure its long-term preservation.

- Journals@KU supports the publication of scholarly journals online, and assists journal editors with the management, editorial work, and production work involved in producing scholarly journals. Our journal services are built on the Open Journal Systems (OJS) journal management software designed to facilitate online peer-reviewed publishing.

- XTF is a system for building and providing access to full-text, XML-encoded resources, such as TEI-encoded monographs and EAD finding aids.
ThinkIR is an open access digital archive of scholarly work created by the University of Louisville community. ThinkIR preserves and disseminates works of enduring merit for future generations of scholars making them available to a worldwide audience of scholars and researchers.

ThinkIR is organized by colleges/schools and departments of the University of Louisville.

Collection Policy

ThinkIR welcomes scholarly work created by faculty, staff, and students of the University of Louisville (UofL).

Student Scholarship

Graduate theses, dissertations, and capstone and undergraduate honors theses are deposited by students in accordance with their respective program requirements. Please see (Guidelines for the Preparation and Processing of Theses and Dissertations) (School of Interdisciplinary & Graduate Studies) and Procedures and Standards for Master of Engineering Theses (J. B. Speed School of Engineering) for additional information. If your University of Louisville thesis or dissertation does not currently appear within ThinkIR but you would like to give us permission to include it, please contact us.

Faculty and Staff Scholarship

ThinkIR also showcases worldwide the research and creative work of faculty and staff. Examples of these types of scholarly effort include:

- journal articles
- conference papers/presentations/proceedings
- technical reports/working papers

For the types of materials noted above, faculty may deposit works as defined by their unit's Personnel Document. Staff may deposit these types of material if created in the course of their work assignment.

If something you're interested in sharing through ThinkIR is not listed above, please contact thinkir@louisville.edu so we can discuss the potential for your work to be preserved and shared through ThinkIR. We hope to preserve faculty research data in the future.

Open Access Journals

ThinkIR can serve as a platform for electronic journals sponsored by UofL, entities in connection to their university roles. The journals must be peer-reviewed and in accordance with the customary scholarly practice in the field they cover, and be open access. See ThinkIR Journal Proposal Form for factors to consider before establishing a journal with ThinkIR.

Journal editors would receive free access to the software as well as training and support provided by the ThinkIR Coordinator; but be responsible for identifying and communicating with editors, peer reviewers, and authors; configuring the software; and posting all content. The Libraries would register the International Standard Serial Number (ISSN) with the Library of Congress, submit the titles to the Global LOCKSS Network (GLN) for long-term preservation, and, if desired by the department, register Digital Object Identifiers (DOIs) for each article. See our Memorandum of Understanding for additional details.

Penn State University Press Strategic Plan 2014–2017

Executive Summary

Founded in 1956, The Pennsylvania State University Press publishes annually fifty to sixty books and in 2014 thirty-three journals in print and/or digital form in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. The majority of books published are peer-reviewed scholarly monographs for research libraries. One or two titles appear annually in our Keystone Books imprint, regional works for the citizens of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region. The Press operates on a modified cash accounting system and generates approximately $2.5 million in revenue to underwrite its operations. It receives a direct budget allocation of approximately 11 percent of its operating expenses to cover a portion of salary costs. It operates with a positive result. As a unit responsible for generating roughly 90 percent of its operating revenue, the Press must be creative, entrepreneurial, focused, and far-sighted. It must anticipate the future in a rapidly evolving industry and respond with vision, commitment, and resolve.

1. Mission

The Pennsylvania State University Press, reporting to the Dean of University Libraries and Scholarly Communications, publishes original scholarly, peer-reviewed research (books, journals, and other forms of research) in the arts, humanities, and social sciences for worldwide scholarly communities. The Press disseminates this research to international libraries, institutions, and scholars at affordable prices and at the highest quality. The Press also serves the citizens of Pennsylvania by publishing on topics related to the history, culture, literature, society, politics, and future of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region.
ULS E-Journal Publishing

The University Library System (ULS) at the University of Pittsburgh publishes more than 55 scholarly, peer-reviewed online journals. We publish with partners from the Pitt community as well as scholars from universities and scholarly societies around the world.

Because we are committed to helping research communities share knowledge and ideas through open and responsible collaboration, we subsidize the costs of electronic publishing and provide incentives to promote Open Access to scholarly research.

Our skilled staff will help you turn your ideas into reality to produce an online academic journal of the highest quality at very low cost.

E-Journal Publishing

We offer hosting and a highly configurable system for your editorial workflow, from simple to complex, with features including:

- Online author submission
- Blind, double-blind, or open peer-review processes
- Online management of copyediting, layout, and proofreading
- Delegation of editorial responsibilities according to journal sections
- Management of publication schedule and ongoing journal archiving
- Customizable presentation features
- Multilingual interface supporting the world’s most widely used languages
- Support for a variety of reader tools, such as RSS feeds and share buttons

Our Mission

- Support researchers in
  - efficient knowledge production
  - rapid dissemination of new research
  - Open Access to scholarly information
- Build collaborative partnerships around the world
- Improve the production and sharing of scholarly research
- Support innovative publishing services

The University Library System, University of Pittsburgh is a member of the Open Access Scholarly Publishers Association (OASPA).
Purdue University Press was founded in 1960 and has a distinguished history. It is administratively a unit of Purdue University Libraries and its Director reports to the Dean of Libraries. There are three full-time staff and two part-time staff, as well as student assistants. Dedicated to the dissemination of scholarly and professional information, the Press provides quality resources in several key subject areas including business, technology, health, veterinary sciences, and other selected disciplines in the humanities and sciences. As well as publishing around 30 books a year, and five subscription-based journals, the Press is committed to broadening access to scholarly information using digital technology. As part of this initiative, the Press distributes a number of Open Access electronic-only journals. An editorial board of nine Purdue faculty members is responsible for the imprint of the Press and meets twice a semester to consider manuscripts and proposals, and guide the editorial program. A management advisory board advises the Director on strategy, and meets twice a year. Purdue University Press is a member of the Association of American University Presses.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES
Purdue University Press | History and Mission
http://www.thepress.purdue.edu/pages/history-mission

Mission

Dedicated to the dissemination of scholarly and professional information, Purdue University Press selects, develops, and distributes quality resources in several key subject areas for which its parent university is famous, including business, technology, health, veterinary medicine, and other selected disciplines in the humanities and sciences. As the scholarly publishing arm of Purdue University and a unit of Purdue Libraries, the Press is also a partner for university faculty and staff, centers and departments, working to disseminate the results of their research. In 2012, publishing within Purdue Libraries was reorganized in order that staff with skills in this area could also serve the less formal scholarly publishing needs of the Purdue community (e.g., the production of technical reports, conference proceedings, preprint collections, student journals) while still maintaining the Press's reputation for excellence in producing peer-reviewed books and journals in subjects relevant to the University.

History

On September 29, 1960, an announcement was sent out to the Purdue University community by then-President Frederick Hovde establishing "Purdue University Studies" with a $12,000 grant from the Purdue Research Foundation. This was the result of a committee appointed by President Hovde after the English Department had lamented the lack of publishing venues in the humanities. The first Editorial Board was headed by Robert B. Ogil. William Whalen, Director of the Office of Publications, became the part-time Director of Purdue University Studies. Diane Dubiel was the first full-time employee. Verna Emery was Managing Editor from 1977 to 1990, succeeded by Margaret Hunt who served until 2008. Other long-serving employees who helped build the Press's reputation were Carolyn McShane (1990–2002), Donna VanLeer (1989–2008), and Beverly Carroll (1986–1995).

On September 12, 1974, Purdue University Studies became Purdue University Press and moved to offices in South Campus Courts. In June 1992, William Whalen retired and David Sanders was appointed the first full-time Director, serving until 1996. At the same time, on July 1, 1992, responsibility for the Press was transferred to the Dean of Libraries. David Sanders was succeeded by Tom Bacher (1997–2008). Under Sanders and Bacher, the range of books that the Press published grew to better reflect the work from other Colleges at Purdue University, beyond Liberal Arts, especially in the areas of agriculture, health, and engineering. The Press developed distinguished lists in a range of subject areas from poetry to the study of the human-animal bond. The number of books produced each year increased from 6 in 1990 to 35 in 2002. In 1993 Purdue University Press was admitted to membership of the Association of American University Presses.

Today the Press publishes around 25 books a year, and 15 journals, a number of them in electronic-only. Open Access, format in collaboration with Purdue University Libraries. In 2009, under Interim Director Bryan Shaff, the Press moved from South Campus Court, on the edge of Purdue's West Lafayette facility, to Stewart Center, the location of the Libraries Administration. This move reflects a recognition of the converging paths of librarians and publishers in the digital age, and the exciting potential of an integrated approach to scholarly communication. In its location at the center of campus, the Press can also better fulfill the part of its mission that focuses on efficiently supporting the dissemination of scholarly research conducted at Purdue, and enhancing the university’s global reputation.

* Thank you to Katherine Hennies, Oral History Librarian and Professor of Library Science, for researching the history of the Press. Thank you also to Verna Emery and Carolyn McShane for additional details. Additional information and corrections would be welcomed. Please send to Purdue University Press.
Newfound Press
A digital imprint of the University of Tennessee Libraries

Publishing with Newfound Press
Since it was established in 2003, Newfound Press has published peer-reviewed works with a limited and/or specialized audience. We are a digital-only press, although we do provide print on demand of some titles in partnership with the University of Tennessee Press. We publish book length manuscripts and works of digital media scholarship. Of particular interest are works with interdisciplinary approaches and those relevant to Tennessee and the Southeast. Newfound Press does not consider unlicensed manuscripts.

Scholarly Publishing and Libraries
Exciting technologies and new forms of informal publication are creating new interest in university publishing; a report by the library research group urges administrators, librarians, and university presses to work together towards building a shared electronic publishing infrastructure. The 2012 Library Publishing Services: Strategies for Success Final Report documents how publishing has become a core function of academic libraries in North America. Scholars welcome the benefits of electronic access to information and recognize the potential for presenting the outcomes of their research online. When institutions cover publication costs up front, one barrier to the free flow of information is eliminated.

Universities seeking new publication models are exploring open access publishing to lower the costs of acquiring information, and to increase the likelihood that research results can be discovered. The University of Tennessee is a founding member of the Library Publishing Coalition, a community-led organization that supports an evolving, distributed range of library publishing practices and that furthers the interests of libraries involved in publishing activities on their campuses.

Library Publishing Services for Faculty, Students and Staff

Scholarly Communication is a dynamic landscape, and we have returned to our roots. Our focus is on publishing services supporting the creation and dissemination of scholarship.

The Virginia Tech Libraries provide services to expand and diversify publishing to meet the needs of the university community. We empower you to be creative and develop new modes of scholarship.

Scholarly Communication will help you publish and disseminate a range of publications not limited to peer reviewed journals, undergraduate research, grey literature, Open Educational Resources, or monographs. Please contact us to explore your ideas.

Our services enable you to create new open access journals or transition existing journals from print to electronic and to produce and disseminate articles and conference proceedings widely.

Don't hesitate to ask us about related topics such as altmetrics, data curation, VTechWorks, and our digital preservation strategy.

To fulfill our commitment to long-term access, Scholarly Communication is committed to a distributed digital preservation strategy as a partner in the MetaArchive Cooperative.

To take advantage of our services and resources, contact Gail McMillan: gailm@vt.edu, Director of Scholarly Communication, or any of the Scholarly Communication staff.

ARTICLE PROCESSING CHARGES SUPPORTED

VT Libraries and the Provost have established an Open Access Subvention Fund (OASF) of $100,000 for FY2017.

If you have an article accepted for publication by an open access, peer-reviewed journal that has article processing charges, the OASF will cover up to $1500.

- Award criteria
- Locate Open Access journals
- Publisher APC policies

The OASF enables you to include your next article in your digital P&T dossier, CV, and FAB.

Parallel Press, is a non-profit publisher supported by the University of Wisconsin-Madison Libraries. The press publishes chapbooks and books that feature the work of regional poets and authors. In keeping with the Wisconsin Idea, Parallel Press is part of an ongoing commitment by the Libraries to make scholarly works available worldwide.

Parallel Press is also dedicated to supporting the scholarly communication efforts of the Libraries. Communicating the results of scholarly research is essential to building knowledge and helping academics, scholars, and researchers share and publish their research findings so they are available to the wider academic community. To that end, all of the Parallel Press publications are made freely available online.

For more information, contact Parallel Press by postal mail, phone, or e-mail.

York University Libraries provide support and infrastructure for scholarly production and dissemination. At the production end, we offer research data management consultations with our Digital Assets Librarian and a free online journal hosting service called York Digital Journals. Limited financial aid in support of open access publishing is offered via the Open Access Author Fund, and YorkSpace supports an alternate route to open access which involves placing a copy of your published work (subject to publisher policy) in an open access repository.

York University Libraries Open Access Author Fund

York University Libraries have directed a small portion of their collections budget in support of an open access author fund to cover Author Processing Charges for York researchers who wish to publish their work in open access journals. Please apply as early as possible as once the annual allocation has been expended, no further requests can be considered until the following fiscal year.

Scholars Portal Dataverse Network

The Scholars Portal Dataverse network is a repository for research data collected by individuals and organizations associated with Ontario universities. The Dataverse platform makes it easy for researchers to deposit data, create appropriate metadata, and version documents as you work. Access to data and supporting documentation can be controlled down to the file level, and researchers can choose to make content available publicly, only to select individuals, or to keep it completely locked. All data is hosted on Canadian servers, in a secure environment that conforms to industry best practices for maintaining data integrity and longevity.

York University Libraries provide an electronic journal hosting service for York-affiliated journals. This service is called York Digital Journals (YDJ).

York University uses Open Journal Systems (OJS), an open source software platform developed by the Public Knowledge Project which is now in use by over 7,500 journals worldwide. OJS differs from other web platforms as it is specially designed to manage articles through author submission, peer review, editing and publication. This online submission and tracking workflow simplifies the administrative aspects of the journal editorial process, allowing designated users to view the status of their article at any given time.

The YDJ team is happy to work with York community members to create new journals or migrate existing journals to an online environment. The librarians can provide hosting space, training documentation and troubleshooting help with the OJS software, as well as advice on dissemination and exposure.

Please be advised that an embargo is in place with respect to YDJ taking on new journals as of January 2017 due to preparations for software migration for our 46 journals. The embargo will be re-evaluated in July 2017.
